

SOUTH GIPPSLAND YACHT CLUB

Australia Day Weekend

25, 26 and 27 January 2014

Message from South Gippsl and Yacht Club Commodore

On behalf of the SGYC I would like to extend a warm welcome to all sailors to join us over Australia day weekend in celebrating Inverloch's past glory of regattas held on Andersons Inlet commencing more than 100 years ago, a place where the design of the now internationally famous Moth began in 1928.

Lunch will be available at the club.

Sunday 26

Sunday has been set aside for the display of wooden dinghies on the beach from 10.00 am to 2.00 pm and a race that will start at 3.30 pm to make the most of the high tide conditions.

Lunch will be available at the club.

Briefing will be at 1.30 pm. A panel of judges will assess the boats on the beach and during racing.

The Classic Wooden Dinghy Regatta dinner at the club will commence with nibbles and drink at 6.00 pm. Cost of the dinner is $40.00 per head and drinks can be purchased from the bar. As there is limited capacity early booking is recommended.

This will also include announcing the decision of the judges on category winners. The categories are:

Awards

- Best Dinghy in Original Condition – (may be a dinghy of historic significance either first of type, race history or sailor)
- Best Presented Dinghy – (best in show)
- Best Presented Sailing Boat – (best in show not of a dinghy class but of traditional building techniques)
- Best Moth in Original or Restored Condition

From Bob Parry's notes on the Moth

I started researching the Inverloch Yacht Club and Moth history in 1993 when I attended the Moth National titles in Lauderdale, Tasmania. I discovered that Jack Newey 1932/33 was the first name on the National trophy (which is the original Inverloch silver cup). I started interviewing Jack in 1993 and much of the following was learnt.

Len Morris designed and built "Olive" the first Inverloch 11foot class dinghy at Darnham near Warragul where the Morris family dairies had a depot for collecting milk. The dinghy had to be no wider than four feet so it would fit in the trailer. It had to be unsinkable and had holes around the centreboard case to drain the cockpit. The first sail was made by Radin a sailmaker in Flinders Street, Melbourne. The second sail was made by Ratsey & Laphorne, England, sailmakers to the King. He got this sail before his second dinghy "Flutterby" was built. Sails were a light canvas, cotton Japara.

The first mast was solid spruce. The second mast was taller about 21feet hollow timber, much lighter.

There were three mast step positions and three sets of matching chain plates. The first centreboard was solid steel, pivoted on a bolt with a mechanism to lock it in position. It was enamelled and they used graphite to help slide it.

William Gidney, coal mine manager of Wonthaggi copied "Olive" but his dinghy "Whoopee" was much heavier. This dinghy was built by William and his son Arthur. Luckily for our moth history Arthur purchased a photographic business in McBride Avenue, Wonthaggi, and this is where most of the old photos came from. Thanks to Graeme and Helen Gidney for the copies of these photos.

Len Morris then built "Flutterby" and sold "Olive" to the Newey family. Now there were three dinghies.

Mr Arnold Phillip Newey a school teacher from Melbourne founded the Elwood Life Saving Club where three members of his family are life members. He was also Secretary of the Royal Life Saving Association of Victoria from 1910 to 1932. In 1924 Arnold and his wife Margaret purchased a house in Hopetoun Street, Inverloch, on the beach side on the crest of the hill with a palm tree in the front yard. The house was named “JAJOBEBOWI” from his five childrens names. Jack, Joy, Betty, Bob and Winson.

They did not own a car so it was a big annual event packing up for seven people and getting a carrier to pick them up and take them to the station for a train trip to Wonthaggi. Mr Cuttriss picked them up delivered them to Inverloch. Mr Cuttriss was the Secretary for the Inverloch Aquatic Sports in 1928 and Mr Newey became involved and organised the running, swimming and sailing events each January. Mr Newey became the first Commodore of the Inverloch Yacht Club. Described as a tall man with a thunderous voice he was a great organiser and respected by all. He died suddenly in 1934 at the age of 46.

Jack Newey recalls that one night working by the light of kerosene lanterns (pre electricity) his mother, Mrs Morris and Mrs Gidney sat around the kitchen table cutting out moth shapes and sowing them by hand onto their sails, this would have been in late 1933. This was the start of the “Moth Class” formerly the “Inverloch 11Foot Class”.

The Lake Boga, Yarrawonga and Albury Clubs all formed because of the moth class.
